Below is attached a template agreement on the co-supervision of dissertations approved by the Rector’s Board of Charles University in several languages. During the preparation of a specific agreement, the partner may wish to work with their own template document. From the standpoint of CU regulations, this is possible, but the resulting document, prepared from the partner institution’s template, must contain all required points. We, therefore, recommend always working with the Charles University’s template, at least as an illustrative list of elements that need to be addressed in any cotutelle agreement.
